Description

The sources of this album are from the album "El Viaje Místico" (The Mystical Journey), originally released in 2001.

The sounds of "El Viaje" are, essentially, field recordings from a journey by train in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

For "El Viaje Revisited" we selected fragments and sections from those recordings and we remixed them to obtain new tracks and mixes.

We think that "El Viaje Revisited" is a soundscape. A simple journey by train.

We are very satisfied with the results, because we believe that the original recordings have been improved in this album. We worked on this album for four months.

This is the second part of the album, which has more parts of "Incidental Travel", "Station", "Meditaciones" (Meditations) and "Yendo a Casa" (Going Home) that appeared in Vol. I. We feel that Vol. II has a more "progressive" feel than Vol. I.

We are planning to make some videos (videoart) for some of the tracks.
