Description

What an enormous output this year by Jason Corder aka offthesky. He has given us two great releases on term and autoplate. Now he returns with a 4-track-EP on Resting Bell.

Musically related to the "Du Soleil ep" on atmworks, "rare decay" presents four careful though stunning pieces. The entire release from beginning to end is a perfect compliment to lying down and watching the clouds lilt by. Or like listlessly gazing on a silent snow fall. It is a fitting soundtrack to harbor the softer side of winter's brittle curse. It's warmth beckons beauty that stirs fire in the icy corners of a torpid tundra landscape.

Take a rest and enjoy this great piece of music.
